A THREATENED EVIL.

The Present Season is Certainly a Remarkable One.

A GREAT PHYSICIAN'S WORDS.

"No One is Safe from the Evil Effects of Three Constant Changes," he says.--Why the Death Rate is so Heavy.--People Should Exercise Great Care.--Some Sound Advice.

This is a very trying season of the year. No one doubts it, every one admits it, every one feels it.

People are continually telling us that they feel "out of sorts," or "under the weather," and sickness is more common now than at any other time. No one is safe from the evil effect of the unhealthy changes of temperature that are constantly taking place.

Now, listen to what we are about to say, and you may find it useful in many ways.

One of the greatest physicians in America tells us there is but one way to act in order to escape many dangerous diseases that are always at hand ready to leap upon us like tigers, whenever a break is made in the system. This is what he says:

"To preserve the health and strength see that the liver and kidneys act properly at all times. If their action is checked through indigestion, over-work, worry or exposure, you will find a person in this condition groaning with pain. There is a sickness at the stomach, the tongue is coated, the eyes are inflamed with a constant headache, fullness after eating, and inability to work. Do you see what this fact signifies? It means that nobody need be in a bad state of health if only the liver and kidneys are kept in good working order."

"That is good advice," you say, "but how shall it be done?" The answer to this important question is given by some well-known people whose words are beyond question. They speak from experience in the following words:

Dr. A. C. Clark, a well-known New York physician, says: "I have never known a case of debility, or any of the troubles which arise during this season, which has not been promptly and permanently cured by the use of Warner's Safe Cure and Warner's Safe Pills. Its power at this time of the year is wonderful. I have seen women run down by care and overwork, and whose vitality was exhausted, and even puny children restored to health through its use."

Equally important and interesting is the following remarkable statement made by Mrs. R. F. McMurray, of St. Paul's avenue, Staten Island: "My mother, Mrs. S. A. Vanderbilt, and myself," she says, "owe our health, and I almost feel our lives, to Warner's Safe Cure. I speak from a long experience. Recently I had a most severe attack of influenza arising from a cold, and the Safe Cure made me feel like a new person. Other members of our family, and also many friends and acquaintances have received equal benefit, and all highly recommend it."

Mr. Jesse Tarrabee, the well-known counselor-at-law, whose office is at No. 55 Liberty street, New York, says:

"I have used Warner's Safe Cure personally, and with the best possible results. I have recommended its use to very many friends and acquaintances during the past ten years, and it has invariably proved eminently satisfactory. It cured my brother of Bright's Disease, and has always been a cure for kidney troubles in all cases that I have known, and where I have recommended it."

George Alfred Townsend, the famous newspaper correspondent, recently said: "I suffered greatly from liver complaint, which was indicated by such symptoms as back-ache, bad fluids, tired feelings, nervous exhaustion, irregular appetite, 'thick head,' and am to-day as sound as a nut. I owe it to the use of Warner's Safe Cure. I regard it as a Godsend to this country, where Bright's Disease and all other kidney disorders are so prevalent."

Avoid the coming on of disease while you may. Now is the time, and the way is clear.

External Use.

You can cure skin affections by pouring medicines into the stomach, but it is a long way around, and a slow process.

"A HEALING WONDER."

Comfort Powder

Is quicker, safer, and more certain.

It never drives the disease in.

CAPT. JAMES MAY, Quincy, Mass., used Comfort Powder for Erysipelas, and he says it relieved the burning and itching instantly.

MRS. LUCY E. RICE, Bridgeport, Vt., says: "I had a humorous sore on my nose for a long time. Comfort Powder completely cured it."

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Bills Reported and Acted Upon.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. The House Committee on Banking and Currency met this morning, and adjourned without transacting any business. The bills referred to the committee and not acted upon were taken up and it was practically decided it was useless to consider and report on any of them, owing to the shortness of the session and pressure of other business in the House.

The Committee on Foreign Relations reported to the Senate in Executive Session, to-day, the Hawaiian annexation Treaty with the recommendation that it be ratified. It was placed on the Executive calendar where it can be reached by the majority vote at any time.

The Treasury Situation.

The Treasury situation shows improvement. Heavy receipts and smaller expenditures have had the effect of showing again in the net balance, which for the past few days had dropped down to a dangerously. To-day it is about $25,000,000, of which ten million is in subsidiary coin and a like amount is in national bank depositories. The margin a few days ago was only about twenty-three million which taken out, the two items named left the Treasury with a very narrow margin to work on.

All the heavy payments likely to accrue this month have been made. For the remainder of the month receipts are expected to increase and the expenditures to decrease so that at the end of the month the account will about balance. The net balance at the beginning of February by the debt statement was $5,265,068. The Treasury officials are still interested in the question of keeping intact the $100,000,000 gold reserve. Secretary Foster authorized the statement to-day, that the gold reserve will be kept intact at all hazzards.

OUR FLAG STILL FLYING

At Honolulu, and Everything Running Smoothly Under the New Government.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 17. Steamer Belgic arrived this morning from Hong Kong and Yokohoma via Honolulu and reports that the American flag is still flying at Honolulu and everything progressing smoothly under the new government.

On the 5th inst., marshal law was declared off by the provisional government of Hawaii. Everybody was anxiously awaiting the news from the United States and the sentiment of annexation was steadily growing. The ex-Queen is still in retirement at her private residence and she is confident that her envoy to the United States will meet a favorable reception.

A detachment of sailors and mariners from the U. S. S. Boston, is still quartered on shore, and the whites and natives are willing to await action by the Washington government. The provisional government has in a great measure won over the public confidence, having amply demonstrated its ability to cope with the situation. S. M. Damon, Minister of Finance in the Thurston cabinet, has been appointed Vice President in the provisional government.

SALE OF GOVERNMENT BONDS

The President Reconsiders His Former Determination.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. A special from Washington says it is learned on high authority that President Harrison has reconsidered his determination not to allow the sale of bonds to make good the gold deficiency. Before leaving the city Wednesday, the President authorized Secretary Foster to offer bonds for sale, whenever, in his judgment, such action is absolutely necessary to maintain the government's gold reserve. A Tribune despatch on the same subject says: The sudden change of mind on the part of the President was wholly unexpected. Secretary Foster is now free to act as he sees fit, should an emergency arise in the President's absence. One thing Secretary Foster is fully determined upon he will not permit the $100,000,000 reserve to be attacked.

THE ASYLUM FIRE.

Verdict of the Coroner's Inquest.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 17. The Coroner's jury in the county asylum inquest submitted their verdict to the clerk of court here to-day. They find that the evidence leads to the conclusion that the fire was started by Mrs. Lafontaine, who in some way obtained a match and ignited her bed or chair cushion. It also appears from the testimony that the commissioners have been handicapped by a limited sum of money allowed for annual repairs. The statutes allow a sum of $1,000, on all county buildings in excess of the appropriation. They have spent more than a fair proportion of this on the asylum and have done all in their power to protect and care for this class of unfortunates. Whatever may have been the immediate cause of the fire it appears that everyone connected with the institution did all within his power to extinguish the flames and save the inmates.

CONNECTICUT RIVER R. R.

Stockholders at a Special Meeting Ratify the Lease of the Road to the Boston & Maine.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 17. A special meeting of stockholders of the Connecticut River Railroad was held to-day for the purpose of voting upon the ratification of the lease of the road to the B. & M. The meeting was quiet and harmonious and the opposition which was predicted in some quarters, did not manifest itself, there being no discussion whatever. The vote resulted in favor of the lease, 17,250 against 548.

FOREIGN NEWS.

LONDON, Feb. 17. The Irish members have decided not to persist in their demand that the editor of The Times appear at the bar of the House to apologize for accusing them of corrupt practices. They will be satisfied with the publication of an apology in The Times.

The Hawaiian Question--Comments of Leading London Papers.

LONDON, Feb. 17. The Chronicle says of the Hawaiian question: Mr. Harrison takes overmuch for granted when he declares that the leading powers would acquiesce in the annexation of Hawaii by the United States.

The News.

The News says: If the Senate respects Mr. Harrison's treaty, the well wishers of the Republic abroad will regard it as having escaped serious dangers. The Americans have no advantages to gain which would counterbalance the perils of the complications involved in the spread of the Republic beyond the seas.

TOPEKA, Kans., Feb. 17. Early this morning the situation in the Representative hall was unchanged. The usual guard was maintained. Emergency squads are maintained, one at the Capeland Hotel, one at the Court House and one at Grand Army hall.

Both Republicans and Populists

continued consideration through the night of the amended proposition of the compromise submitted by the Governor, yesterday afternoon. The Republican Compromise Committee studied the proposition from all points of view and decided the proposition as amended by them, yesterday, should be their ultimatum.

Gov. Lewelling, Speaker Dunsmore, of the Populist House, and Judge Frank Doster, their legal adviser, considered the amendments all night. A conference between the two parties was held after 2 o'clock, this morning, and it is believed an agreement was arrived at under which both sides can suspend hostilities and permanent

Peace Be Established.

All the parties to the conference were pledged to secrecy and none of them would consent to make a statement as to the result of the negotiations. One of the Populist's principals, however, gave it to be understood that the compromise would be formally accepted by the governor practically in the same form as amended by the Republicans. The Republican representatives affirmed that before night the militia will be withdrawn. The sheriff's posse is disbanded and the Republicans are left in undisputed possession of Representative hall, and everything will be allowed to remain in statu quo until the Supreme Court decides the habeas corpus cases to be brought following the arrest of clerks of both houses to determine which is the legally constituted body.

POOR DE LESSEPS.

His Son Visits Him and Listens to His Dreams of the Future of the Panama Canal.

Charles de Lesseps remained all day, Wednesday, with his father, Ferdinand, at La Chesnaye. The aged De Lesseps recognized his son, still ignorant of the judgment that had doomed them both to imprisonment. Charles managed to restrain his tears, and assumed a cheerful aspect, in order that his father might not suspect the truth.

Charles introduced the detectives, whose prisoner he was, as friends who had accompanied him from Paris, and Ferdinand received them in as much of his old debonnaire fashion as his decrepit condition and weakened faculties would permit. They all chatted together, and when dinner time came the Count invited the visitors to dine, a privilege of which they would have availed themselves whether invited or not.

Count de Lesseps' mind still lingered on the possibilities of the Panama canal, and now and then he spoke optimistically about the revival of the enterprise and the eventual union, under French auspices, of the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific. Charles listened mutely to his father's utterances on the subject, the remarks being of an erratic character, which indicated that the intellect of the veteran diplomatist and engineer had lost its ancient strength.

The family, including Ferdinand and Charles dined at the same table with their detective guests.

When evening came Count de Lesseps again embraced his son, and expressed a hope that he would soon see him again. Then the detective, who had never once left Charles entirely alone, escorted him back to Paris, and he was lodged again in the Conciergerie at 5 o'clock in the morning.

Interdenominational Comity.

What is it?

A committee appointed at Lewiston, last December, by the commission representing five denominations in the State, explain it as follows:

Many towns in the State are without religious privileges. It is reported that out of 575 towns and organized plantations 119 have no Sunday school, prayer meeting or preaching service; 130 are without Protestant service, and 75 without church edifice of any kind. In other places churches, though existing, are practically dead.

This state of affairs is largely due to wasteful methods. Denominational interests have been allowed to determine the planting of churches rather than the need of the field entered. The result is that in some cases two, three, or even four churches have existed where one would have been sufficient. Under such conditions men and money have been used with the outlay.

It seems possible to remedy this. To spread the Gospel is the chief thing. A clear understanding of this will enable the different denominations to work together so as to lose nothing in effectiveness where churches already exist and yet leave resources for new undertakings.

Interdenominational comity is the practical effort to realize this. Five denominations, Baptist, Christian Congregationalist, Free Baptist and Methodist, have united in forming a Commission "to promote" as its constitution states, "cooperation in the organization and maintenance of churches in Maine; to prevent waste of resources and effort in the smaller towns; and to stimulate missionary work in destitute regions." The commission is expected to study the needs in the State, advise in developing an intelligent interest in the advancement of the Redeemer's Kingdom in Maine.

The sale will include forty superior colts, fillies, and brood mares, and gentlemen's driving horses, representing the blood of Electioneer, Nutwood, Red Wilkes, Dictator, Almont, Alcantara, Harold, Onward, Gideon and Young Rolfe, General Knox and Winthrop Morrill, through Ne son, 2:10; Bayard Wilkes, 2:15; The Seer, 2.19½; Dictator Chief, 2.21¼; Messenger Wilkes 2.23; Glenarm, 2.23½; Arrival, 2.14½; Hamlin's Almont, Jr., 2:26; McKusick, 2 28¾; Ben V., 2.29¾; Warrener, Olympus, Prescott, Rockefeller, Sir Nutwood and Remittance. All animals to be sold will be on exhibition "Carnival Day," the 21st, and the morning of the 22d, in the ring of the covered track at the Colt Farm. Charles H. Cushman's residence, 5 Minot Avenue. Smith, of that regiment, now residing in Indianapolis, Ind., which shows that he is as proud as any man can be of the State which gave him birth and brought him up:

To the Legislature of Maine:

Seventeen years have passed since I was a constant attendant of the sessions of the Legislature of my native State. In that brief period, nearly every then familiar name has disappeared from the list of members. An absentee, I shall never permit myself to be regarded as alien to the State in which I was born, and which, I now regard as the model for States, for intelligent citizenship, for the high character of its people and in the excellence and economy of the administration of public affairs.

In every crisis in national affairs, Maine has been counted for the honor of the Republic. In the war for the Union, the sons of no State surpassed those of Maine in valor. To be known in the service as belonging to a Maine regiment was to be rated as a good soldier. To be known as one whose name is on its historic muster roll as one of her soldiers is an honor that cannot be surpassed. Of her twenty-three regiments enrolled for three years, thirteen are on the list of Fox's "300 Fighting Regiments"--those which lost ten per cent. and over of their men in killed and mortally wounded. No other State has so large a proportion of its regiments on that roll of battle-field valor. Six of its seven batteries are enlisted. Its magnificent First Cavalry, which of itself won renown sufficient to cover an army with glory, headed the list of battle-field losses in that arm of the service. In the list of the appalling losses in battle in numbers, her First Maine Heavy Artillery stands first, but so stands, not because of higher valor, but because it bore the name of that organization of Maine men which was called to sacrifice. A trail of blood attested the constant valor of every Maine organization that was in the battle area. Two of the four men whose blood sprinkled the pavement of Baltimore and who were the first martyrs of the thousands who followed, Needham and Whitney of the Sixth Massachusetts, were born and lived among the hills of Maine. The last carbine and the last musket at Appomattox were fired by the First Maine Cavalry and the Eleventh Maine Infantry. No battle in the East between Baltimore and Appomattox was fought to which Maine did not contribute an abundant quota of heroism and attest it in the blood of her sons.

I beg to call your attention, gentlemen, to the fact that the bloodiest and most desperate affair of modern wars, considering the number engaged, was that of the First Maine Heavy Artillery before Petersburg, June 18, 1864. Official records put it that of 950 men who led that fatal charge, 604 were killed or wounded. As a matter of fact, the number of men who went in was less than 850, but 604 were killed or wounded. The desperateness of that charge, every man in the regiment who looked across the open field to the frowning line of earthworks, fully realized.

"Was there a man dismay'd?
Not tho' every soldier knew
Some one had blundered:
Theirs not to make reply,
Theirs not to reason why,
Theirs but to do and die."

It was the same heroic spirit which led this regiment to that forlorn hope that led the First Maine Cavalry at Aldie and the Sixth Maine at Rappahannock Station. Of the 850 men who attempted to storm these works but 246 came out unscathed--a fraction over 70 per cent. were either killed or wounded, or almost twice as large a percentage as was lost in the charge of the Light Brigade which Tennyson has immortalized in song.

There is nothing on that fatal spot to bear testimony to the unprecedented valor of your Maine regiment, or to tell the story of its martyrdom. On other fields, there are monuments to the valor of Maine's sons. The surviving members of this regiment, of whom it is my unspeakable pride to be one, appeal to your honorable body for an appropriation of a few hundred dollars to erect a suitable tablet on the spot. Among these survivors are some of the best known citizens of Maine, --Gen. R. B. Shepherd, of Skowhegan, General Charles Hamlin--most honored name--of Bangor, Captain H. H. Shaw, of Portland, Capt. George R. Fernald, of Wilton, Lieutenant J. A. Dole, of Bangor, Lieutenant I. R. Dunham, of Winterport, Lieutenant H. E. Sellers, of Bangor, Lieutenant House, of Monson, Sergeant Berry, of Vinal Haven, Sergeant Wing, of Old Town, Private Campbell, of Ellsworth, and many others. I need not add for the information of a Maine Legislature that any appropriation entrusted to a committee of the above named to expend would not be wasted.

I desire to add my request to those of my comrades, trusting that it will find favor in the judgment of a Legislature composed of men who love the dear old State as their mother and are proud of the renown and valor of her sons, which justly entitles her to write on her escutcheon, "Dirigo."

With sincere regard,
Your obedient servant,
Z. A. SMITH.

RESULT IN TEN MINUTES.

The New Election Device Employed in the Local Elections Up the State with Success.

SYRACUSE, Feb. 11. The experiment of voting by machine was tried in Onondaga county to-day. It was at the Dewitt town election held in East Syracuse. The Meyers ballot machine was used and the trial was in all respects satisfactory. The election at Lockport is the only one prior to this at which it had been used. It requires only three persons to attend to the recording of the thousand votes. C. W. Ford took the names while C. D. Wand and J. W. Nice attended the booth.

In the first three hours 250 men voted. The voters had hardly any difficulty in acquainting themselves with the new method. J. H. Myers, the inventor of the machine, was at the polls. Concerning himself and his invention he said:

"I am by trade a designer of burglar proof safes, and my machine is designed to oblige men to be honest, whether they will or not. It was patented three years ago, and I have had three patents since then. In 1892, the Legislature enacted a law authorizing the use of the machine. I was led to plan a voting machine by the passage of the Australian ballot law. The State wanted a method to secure a secret ballot, and I thought that the Australian law would never be a success. I have always been interested in honest politics, and was a candidate against C. R. Parsons for the Senate. After the Australian law passed I went to work, and in thirty days perfected this machine. We are kept busy filling our orders."

The method of voting is extremely simple. No one required more than one minute to record his votes, and many did it within ten seconds. The machine is a steel booth five feet square and seven feet high. The voter enters and finds before him three rows of names, twenty-four in each row. The first row is headed "Democratic ballot," and all the names are printed on yellow cards. The second row has the names of the Republican candidates on red cards. The Prohibition cards are blue. At the right of each name is a small knob, and the voter merely presses the knobs opposite the names he wishes to vote for.

It is as easy to vote in one minute by this system as it is ten by the ballot system. It took ten minutes to count the votes after the polls closed.

The election at Madison was also conducted with the Meyer machine with equal success. The average time consumed by each voter was fifteen seconds, and many voted in eight seconds.

That cure of Gen. W. Turner, of Galway, N.Y., of scrofula, by Hood's Sarsaparilla, was one of the most remarkable on record.

Prisoner Coolly Tells of Her Attempt at Wholesale Murder.

With the frankness and simplicity of a child, Katherine Horlcher, sixteen years old, told on the witness stand in the Camden, N. J., court Wednesday, of how she attempted wholesale murder by poisoning her uncle, John Horlacher, of Marshall street and Montgomery avenue, Philadelphia, his family and her aged grandmother. While giving her testimony the girl frequently smiled, as though she thought the entire affair was something of which she should be proud. She was taken to Camden by Detective Geyer to testify in the habeas corpus proceedings in the case of Mrs. Ritter, who was arrested for conspiracy and furnishing the poison to Miss Horlacher.

She said she wanted to put her uncle's family out of the way and also kill her grandmother, so that all the estate would come to her. Mrs. Ritter, she said, gave her two bottles, one containing a red and the other a white fluid. She mixed some of the contents of the bottles in coffee and soup and put some in her uncle's whiskey. When she dosed the soup her grandmother insisted that she eat some of it. In order to allay suspicion she did so, and was sick all night with cramps. The girl said that Mrs. Ritter told her if the stuff did any harm to get her money and come over to Camden, and they would have a good time. On cross-examination she admitted that she knew the bottles contained poison and it was her intention to kill her relatives. Judge Garrison adjourned the case until to-day in order to have a chemist analyze the contents of the bottles.

Why Foam Is White.

The question as to why all foam is white is not an easy one to understand, but the fact is that foam is always white, whatever may be the color of the beverage itself. The froth produced on a bottle of the blackest ink is white, and would be perfectly so were it not tinged to a certain extent by particles of the beverage which the bubbles hold in mechanical suspension. As to the cause of this whiteness, it is sufficient to say that it is due to the large number of reflecting surfaces formed by the foam, for it is these surfaces which, by reflecting the light, produce upon our eyes the impression of white.

If we remember that all bodies owe their colors to the rays of light, which they cannot absorb, and all bodies which reflect all the light they receive, without absorbing any, appear perfectly white, we shall be prepared to understand how the multitude of reflecting surfaces formed by the foam, and which do not absorb any light, must necessarily give the froth a white appearance. It is for the same reason that any very fine powder appears white, even the blackest marble, when ground to dust, losing every trace of its original color.--Thomas Warwick in Confectioners' Journal.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES.

The Republican voters of the City of Bangor are hereby notified to meet in caucus at

on THURSDAY EVENING, February 23, 1893, at 7.30 o'clock for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Mayor to be voted for on March 13, 1893.

WARD CAUCUSES.

The voters are also requested to meet at the polling places in the several wards on FRIDAY EVENING, February 24, 1893, at 7.30 o'clock, to nominate candidates for Aldermen, Councilmen and Ward Officers; also to elect a member of the Republican City Committee for each ward.

Per order of the Republican City Committee,
H. N. FAIRBANKS, Chairman.
G. M. FLETCHER, Secretary.

Bangor, Me., February 16, 1893.

The prevailing impression is that Congress will ratify the treaty submitted to the Senate for the annexation of Hawaii without unnecessary delay. The feeling that the United States cannot afford to let any other power assume control of the government of Hawaii is very pronounced.

It appears from the reports that all three of the Democrats in the Kansas House of Representatives have been acting with the Republicans in the contest against the revolutionary tactics of the Populists. This fact will prove rather embarrassing to the Democratic editors who have been assailing the Republicans on the charge of instigating a riot.

The New York World has at last reached the conclusion that if the next House hopes to transact any business it will be necessary to have some rules to prevent a single member from blocking the wheels of legislation as has been done repeatedly at this session. It is only a question of time before the Reed rules become a fixed fact in the House regardless of party control.

The cabinet selections of the incoming administration are a source of grave concern to the anti-Cleveland machine in the Empire State. Lawyer Bissell, who is slated as the Postmaster General, will have a lot of patronage at his disposal and can be counted upon to place only Cleveland men on guard. If his efforts are to be seconded by R. A. Maxwell, as is likely to be the case, the "snappers" will get little or nothing so far as the offices are concerned. The plan seems to be to fight federal with State patronage, in which case the war will be a merry one.

The special joint committee which has the hospital question under consideration, as a result of the vote to re-commit the matter, has not as yet reported to the House, but it seems to be the general opinion that the majority will recommend a sum sufficient to build two wings of the hospital in this city, the same to be completed as early as possible so as to accommodate patients. There will be a minority report, but several members of the committee who acted with the minority in the first instance will now sign the majority report in favor of the new plan.

Notwithstanding the report of an extra session of Congress it is extremely doubtful if the President-elect finds it desirable to issue the call. From a canvass made of the next Congress by friends of Mr. Cleveland it appears that the silver sentiment will be even stronger on the Democratic side than at present, and as the efforts of the agents of the President-elect to get the question out of the way at this session were fruitless, although they stated to the members that this was the request of Mr. Cleveland, those near the throne declare that all idea of an extra session has been abandoned.

The Pension Debate.

In his report of the pension debate in the House Wednesday, the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press writes as follows: Mr. Boutelle, of Maine, stirred the Democrats up to-day by a vigorous speech against the amendments, attacking the record of the Democratic party, particularly the Southern members, on the subject of pensions. His characterization of the present tendency of the Democratic party to undo all the progressive legislation of recent years was one of the best points made in the House this session. The speech was a telling one and was vigorously applauded on the Republican side.

He remarked at the outset that it had been said that the Union veterans would fare as liberally at the hands of the ex-Confederates as they had at the hands of the Republican party. Much as he regretted it, it was his duty to say that the plain, unmistakable record of Congress showed that upon every question affecting the liberality of the government in pensioning the men who saved its life, the ex-Confederate members had been almost uniformly and almost, if not quite, solid against it. And to-day, almost thirty years after the last shot of the war had ceased to reverberate, a political party which was coming into power on the 4th of March next, whose headquarters were south of Mason and Dixon's line, was hastening to proclaim its policy.

Every item of the amendments was an assault on some good, great principle in the interest of what was thought to have been protected and guaranteed by the great Civil War. The Democratic party was marshalled to-day with not a thought of progress, with not a proposition for advance, but unfurling the banner of repeal. To-day the Democratic party proclaimed as the policy of the new administration, the repeal of the laws protecting the liberty of the citizen; the repeal of the laws protecting the purity of the ballot; the repeal of the laws protecting the great industries of the country; the repeal of the laws carrying into effect the great duty of the country to the men who fought in order that the country might live. That was the Democratic platform. That was the attitude it had assumed before the people of the United States.

To-day the House is confronted with a proposition to strike a serious, a demoralizing and (it was intended) a fatal blow at the pension system of the Republic. This was due to the fact that the gentlemen who had served against the Government on the battlefield had assumed the responsibility of new legislation because the proper committees from which it should emanate happened to be composed of men who had a different estimate of the value of the services of the soldiers of the Union.

This subject, which lay so near to the hearts of the loyal people of the country, has been turned out of the hands of the committee, composed of loyal men, and had been untimely thrust before this House by a majority of men who had fought against the country. There was no chivalry in tampering with the generosity of the government and in using against the government the very weapons which its generosity had returned to the hands of the men who had attempted to destroy it.

Mr. Oates attempted to defend the ex-Confederates, saying that the gentleman from Maine was generally so genial and pleasant that it was to be regretted that he had exhibited the "bloody shirt."

Mr. Enloe said the time had come to draw the line between pensions for men who served from patriotic motives and those who fought for pay. Mr. Rockwell denied that the Democratic party was opposed to pensions.

Mr. Cumming opposed the proposed amendments as bullheaded, brutal, and brutal hearted, and then the discussion closed for the day.

The Fight Goes On.

In spite of the efforts of certain Democratic organs to make it appear that the selection of Judge Gresham for the chief place in the new cabinet has been accepted in good faith by the working members of the party, evidence is not lacking to show that the announcement has created a very ugly feeling. The New York Sun's Washington correspondent discusses the situation at the capital as follows:

Judge Gresham's selection as Mr. Cleveland's Secretary of State becomes more unpopular every day, and there is now loud talk of a united protest from Democrats of all sections against his appointment. It is reported, further, that if the President-elect does not heed the protest a fight will be made against Gresham's confirmation. Senator Hill is said to be the man to lead the fight, but it is not likely that he will do so, or that opposition to confirmation will be made. Democrats in Washington are disappointed and disgusted, but they recognize, as a rule, the President's right to select the members of his cabinet according to his own sweet will. Representative Cable, the most prominent of the Illinois Representatives, said to-day to a reporter of the Sun that he expressed his disapproval of the appointment of Judge Gresham because he regarded it as a reflection on the Democrats of the Northwest, who did so much to carry those States for Mr. Cleveland.

"I do not hesitate to say," said Mr. Cable, "that if the Democratic members of Congress had 'lined up' and openly expressed their disapproval of the selection, the appointment might not have been made. I know of a number of men in the House who privately denounce the selection of Judge Gresham in terms more forceful than elegant, yet they have not sufficient courage to publicly announce their views. I know from conversations that I have had with Mr. Cleveland that he regarded the success of the Democratic party in the Northwest as a young men's victory. He so stated to me, and those of us who gave our time and energies for the benefit of the Democratic cause expected that if our State or our section of the country was to be honored with a Cabinet position the appointee would be one of our own party. I realize that Mr. Cleveland does not like to have his actions or his methods questioned, but I am sufficiently independent to express my convictions, and have not hesitated to do so."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Our premiums and reserves must be calculated on the assumption that they will earn some definite rate of interest during the whole term of our contracts. Originally we assumed that rate to be four per cent. These contracts are liable to run, many of them, from fifty to seventy years. In 1882, in view of the progressive decline in the rate of interest in perfectly safe investments and of the wonderfully progressive increase in capital seeking investment, we did not regard it prudent longer to assume to surely earn four per cent. for so long a period, and changed the assumed rate to three per cent. for all business written since that time. Thus as our old four per cent. business passes off and the new three per cent. business takes its place, we are gaining each year in strength with which to meet the future that the figures of our financial statements cannot disclose, and which no other company possesses, or tries as yet set out to acquire.

Were it necessary (as it is not) for us to change our whole four per cent. business to a three per cent. basis, we could do so and still have a surplus of about $2,500,000 and without interfering with our dividend paying ability.

Should the "Postponed Dividend" or Tontine Companies do the like, as it has been intimated they might do, it would wipe out the Postponed Dividends altogether; and very few of them have surplus enough to make the change even on those terms.—Extract 47th Annual Report. Jacob L. Greene, President.

MAINE LEGISLATURE.

The Committee on Insane Hospital Not Reached Conclusion.

The House Supports the Governor in His Veto Message.

Matters of a Routine Nature Acted on Friday.

[Special to Whig and Courier ]

AUGUSTA, Feb 17. Your correspondent has waited until the close of the executive session of the joint special committee on Insane Hospital held Wednesday and Thursday evenings, hoping to give the Whig some report, but no conclusion was reached Another meeting will be held Monday evening In the opinion of your correspondent it would seem that many members would be satisfied to allow an appropriation suitable to build two new wings at Augusta to be appropriated toward a new hospital at Bangor Should such a report come before the House it might pass It is thought that the majority report will be in favor of $150 000 for Bangor The minority report will favor an additional plant at Augusta There will be a great fight with indications somewhat favorable for Bangor The debate may strengthen or weaken this feeling

A Little work was done in the committee rooms yesterday, chiefly routine business, and to-day the members were preparing to spend the recess so that nothing was done to-day The week has gone and none of the important measures are disposed of so the final adjournment looks to be an unknown date

Mr Twitchell, of Bath called up the Governor's veto House document 121 Mr Powers, of Houlton urged the early consideration of the same and asked that the House proceed to vote at once The vote stood 116 against passing the bill and none in favor This proved what was already supposed namely That the House strongly supports the Governor in his decision

Mr Powers of Houlton presented an order providing that the Committee on Judiciary inquire into the expediency of amending chapter 137 R S, so as to provide commitment and keeping of [illegible] the criminals in the insane department of the State prison

The following were passed to be enacted The act to protect black bass in Highland Lake and the outlet in Bridgton, Cumberland county

Due to some error in printing or other [illegible] about twenty bills which should have passed to-day will not be ready before Monday

In the Senate a bill in act to incorporate the Waldoboro and Randolph Railroad Companies was introduced by Mr Nelson of Lincoln

Resolve in favor of the purchase of regimental histories

An act to amend section 31 of chapter 3 of the Revised Statutes relating to towns The amended section will then read as follows "No change made by the city council in the limit of any city or ward shall be valid unless it is approved by the majority of the legal registered voters of each city, at the election of city officers, held next after such action of the city council and warrants for such meetings shall contain an article for that purpose The act to take effect when approved It was presented by Mr Mayo of Penobscot

The Long Debates

Over matters of trivial interest which came up recently would lead the members to suppose that matters of more weight must necessarily pass very slow yet, by some it is thought that the speeches of this week will show the strength of the House so that matters of more importance will go through this branch of the Legislature without many long debates, It is to be hoped that this is so and that work will be pushed after the Governor's reception as many members have other business which demands their attention and these, what would seem to be, need less delays, are causing uneasiness

Petitions and orders of the day were five petitions from Franklin county favoring taxation of savings banks, by Mr Carville of Freeman

Petition of J H Gray and eight others, of Lubec, accompanied by a bill to incorporate the Lubec Telephone and Telegraph Company by Mr Lawrence, of Lubec.

Notes

Mr Emerson, of Portland occupied the speaker's chair during a portion of the session in a creditable manner

Mr George E Brackett of Belfast, is at the State House in behalf of the Good Templars of the State, who are generally opposed to the druggists bill, Mr Brackett's large acquaintance and personal influence must have considerable weight against the bill

Among other bills introduced to-day was one authorizing the State Assessors to correct errors and make abatements, a bill incorporating the electric railway from Waldoboro to Randolph. The bill prohibiting docking horses was amended making the utmost penalty $100 and no imprisonment The resolve in aid of the Madawaska training school was engrossed in the Senate

Governor Cleaves' veto of the Auburn and Mechanic Falls Electric Railway Company, accompanied by a message relating to such class of charters, was unanimously accepted by the House to-day The veto was sent in Wednesday

An order was introduced requiring Insane criminals to be cared for at the State Prison

The Legislature adjourned till Monday afternoon

MUCH WANTED MAN

Ed Kibby Arrested in Connection with Supposed Murder Case.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Feb. 17 Ed Kibby was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Peck, of Hartford, and Charles Clark, of Lebanon, last night upon suspicion of being connected with the suspected murder of James Cunningham, near Hanover, N H. A hearing was held before a justice of the peace to-day. This is the first important step in this case and Kibby, the much wanted man, is the first to be placed in the hands of the officers. There are many facts not yet known to the public and new and startling developments will doubtless take place within a short space of time.

CROWN LANDS OF HAWAII

Hawaiian Consul Wishes United States to Keep off the Grass.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 17. E. S. Pratt, the Hawaiian Consul General here, has sent to Washington a protest against the ratification of so much of the annexation treaty as applies the crown lands of Hawaii. He avers that the lands in question are a trust, created by Kamehameha III out of his own personal estate to support the dignity of the crown.

THE BORDEN CASE.

Memorandum of Stocks Found in Mrs. Borden's Effects.

FALL RIVER, Mass. Feb. 17. It is reported that among Mrs. Andrew Borden's effects a memorandum was found which suggests that at some time she was more directly interested in her husband's property than was generally supposed. A list letter by her comprising some $80,000 worth of stock in the Troy mill, Merchants Manufacturing Company and other first class corporations, was discovered, and that her attention was called to it at a comparatively recent date is proved by the fact that she wrote the word "Sold" opposite a certain number of shares of Globe street railway company.

Whether this memorandum was dictated by Mr. Borden is not known, but it is not improbable that he contemplated giving his wife these stocks as her portion of his property, leaving the real estate to be divided between his daughters. The list contains a substantial record of all Mr. Borden's investments and local ventures.

Bond Issue Amendment Proposed to Sundry Civil Bill.

A Bit of Sarcasm in the House in Discussing Pensions.

Speaker Asks the Members to Conform to the Rules.

Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 Mr Sherman offered a three per cent. bond issue amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill Mr. Mills, of Texas, moved to strike out of the amendment the words "five years after date," so as to leave the bonds redeemable at the pleasure of the government, and argued in support of that motion

Mr Sherman said if the proposition was not one to provide for an emergency he should feel disposed to accept Mr. Mills' amendment, but he thought it not wise to venture on it now, He did not believe any considerable amount of 3 per cent. bonds would ever be issued At the same time the contingency should be provided for and the power to issue bonds would, he thought, enable the Secretary of the Treasury to maintain the gold reserve without his issuing them

Mr Peffer opposed both amendments because he thought there was no necessity at this time for the issue of the bonds

Mr Teller also opposed the Sherman amendment and argued that by selling four per cent. bonds the premiums received upon them would make the net rate interest less than 2¾ per cent

Mr Voorhees, a member of the Finance Committee, supported the amendment He did not see the connection between the pending amendment and the question of silver The bare fact that the power to issue these 3 per cent bonds existed would give stability to and confidence throughout the world to American currency and treasury finances

After further debate Mr Allison tried to reach an agreement as to the hour at which a vote will be taken to-morrow on Mr Sherman's amendment, but objection was made He asked unanimous consent that the bill be disposed of to-morrow, but this was objected to He gave notice that he would try to have the next session next week The Senate adjourned

House

The car coupler bill was postponed for further consideration until Friday next

The House in committee of the whole considered the pension appropriation bill Mr DeArmond, of Missouri offered an amendment that after July 1 1893 there shall not be paid any person under the act of 1890, any pension for or during the time when the income of such person amounts to $1,000 a year The amendment was agreed to

Mr Grout, of Vermont, replied to the remarks made yesterday by Mr Turpin of Alabama That gentleman stated that a man employed in the Pension Bureau at a salary of $1 800 a year was drawing a pension of $19 a month for total deafness and who was stationed at the telephone He (Grout) had received certain information that the man was a Democrat, that among the men who recommended him was Judge Gresham (Laughter ) The gentleman referred to was the assistant adjudicating officer who drew a pension for the total deafness in the right ear It was not his business to attend the telephone, but as the telephone was at the desk of another adjudicating officer, occasionally he did put his left ear to the telephone (Laughter)

The committee rose and reported the bill to the House The DeArmond amendment agreed to in the committee was rejected by the House The bill was then passed

Mr Bingham, of Pennsylvania moved to amend the title of the bill by striking out the words, "and for other purposes He did this for the purpose of saying a few words in opposition to the DeArmond amendment already defeated

Mr Boutelle, of Maine, was recognized in support of Mr. Bingham's amendment and had proceeded to speak a few moments when Mr Enloe, of Tennessee, raised the point of order that his remarks were not germane

The Speaker stated that it did not appear to the chair that any part of the debate was germane The chair did not like to state it not in order, but asked the gentlemen to conform to the rules of the House

Mr Boutelle said it ought to be apparent to ordinary intelligence that there was a perfect reason for striking out the words "for other purposes," given by the motion to strike out these words This bill is intended to accomplish "other purposes" He was glad that this intention was defeated

The Speaker grew indignant and said the only way the chair could enforce the rules of the House was by the assistance and aid of the gentlemen of the House That it was due the dignity and honor of the House The chair appealed to the gentlemen to conform to the rules of the House and not deliberately violate them

Mr Bingham withdrew the amendment and the bill passed

The House in committee of the whole proceeded to the consideration of the post-office appropriation bill On motion of Mr Dunphy, of New York, an amendment was adopted appropriating $35,000 for rent, light, etc , of the additional premises in New York city Mr Butler, of Iowa, offered an amendment increasing the appropriation for the payment of salaries of post office clerks, which was adopted.

Without disposing of the bill the committee rose The order for an evening session was vacated and the House adjourned

WANTS A HEARING.

Ex-Queen Liliuokalani Sends Protest to the President.

Secretary of State Foster's Instructions to Minister Stevens.

Directed to Maintain a Sufficient Force of Marines.

WASHINGTON, Feb 17 The documents laid before the Senate on Hawaiian matters contain a hitherto unpublished protest addressed by the ex-Queen to the President, which asks that in justice to herself and her people no steps be taken by the government of the United States until her cause can be heard by the President She says she will be able to despatch an envoy about the second day of February, and concludes "I pray you, therefore, my good friends that you will not allow any conclusions to be reached by you until my envoy has arrived"

Despatch to Minister Stevens

In the despatch dated Feb 11th, sent Minister Stevens at Honolulu, Secretary of State Foster says Mr Stevens' despatch dated Feb 1st does not state the precise character and scope of his act In placing Hawaii under the protection of the United States

The despatch continues "So far as your action amounts to in according, at the request of the de facto sovereign government of the Hawaiian Islands, the cooperation of the moral and material forces of the United States for the protection of life and property from apprehended disorders your action is commended

"So far as it may appear to overstep that limit by setting the authority and power of the United States above that of the government of the Hawaiian Islands in the capacity of protector or to impair in any way the independent sovereignty of the Hawaiian government by substituting the flag and power of the United States as the symbol and manifestation of paramount authority it is disavowed

The secretary instructs Mr Stevens to arrange with the commanding naval officer for the continued presence on shore of such marine force as may be necessary to secure American life and property and repress lawlessness and to inform him that this government will sanction no step which might tend to derogate in any form the independence of the government of the Sandwich Islands

ROADS ARE SOLIDLY UNITED

Threatened Railway Strike to be Resisted

A Chicago despatch says Chicago railway managers have settled down to the conviction that they are going to have trouble with their switchmen Nevertheless, they are determined to resist to the bitter end the demands, which they are confident will be presented within a few days.

The switchmen were in session Monday and Tuesday nights and completed the schedule of wages to be submitted in the form of a demand to the management of every railroad entering Chicago If the demand is refused as it certainly will be, there is little doubt that a strike will follow.

For the first time the Chicago roads are solidly united in defying a threatened strike of employes The manager of one of the leading companies said last night

"Whatever comes, we will not submit to the demands of the switchmen for any increase of wages at this time. If we should do so, how long would it be before every other class of employe, would come to the front with similar demands? We cannot afford it and rather than surrender we will go out of business

"That is the ultimatum of every railroad manager in Chicago, and you can depend upon it that not one of them will recede from that position. The World's Fair is close at hand, and the time has been chosen as an opportune one to force us into submission

"True, the railways expect an increase in their messenger earnings this year, but the added expenses and the delay to freight traffic, will offset the gain to such an extent that they will consider themselves fortunate if they can show the usual net increase at the end of the year.

"The cost of switching has, in a comparatively short time, increased from 17 to 30 cents a car, and in many cases five switch engines are employed to do the work that three formerly did. Yet the cry is always for more pay for less work.

"The switchmen may strike, but they will not get what they demand at this time, even though the railroad companies are forced to shut up shop."

Will Test the Method

Recorder Frank A Adams, of the Municipal Court, has returned from a business trip to Portland, Lewiston and Augusta, during which he examined the system of keeping the court records in those cities with a view of improvement in the method here. In this way the printed forms will be laid aside as they are used until there is a sufficient number for binding. They will then be bound in one volume and can be consulted much more conveniently than when several volumes were used. ### ENJOYABLE RECEPTION

To Rev and Mrs E B Bary at the Central Church Parlors Friday Evening

The handsome and spacious parlors of the Central church were the scene of a most enjoyable event last evening it being the reception to the new pastor Rev E B Bary, and wife and a very large number of the members of the parish and others were enabled to meet them in pleasant social relations About six hundred invitations were issued and judging from the number present nearly, if not quite all must have been in attendance

Besides those who attend the Central church there were in attendance the Protestant divines the Theological Seminary professors and the deacons of the Congregational churches and their wives

The parlors were arranged and decorated for the occasion with the greatest taste and the rooms presented a most inviting and tasteful appearance Mr Carl Beers had charge of the decorations and used his well known skill to the utmost advantage A prominent feature of the decorations was the large mass of palms Easter lilies and flowers in d[illegible] of the large parlor and at the wall upon the right

In the corners were palms and the walls and pillars were festooned with laurel The chandeliers were decorated with holly and flowers were used in various places with beautiful effect Shaded gas lights and piano lamp shed a brilliant illumination over the scene Upon the walls were many rare and costly oil paintings and engravings and handsome draperies and furniture aided in the general attractive effect

Checked—the frightful inroads of Scrofula and all blood-taints. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses the system of all impurities, and restores health and strength. It cures all diseases arising from impure blood. Consumption is one of them. It's simply lung-scrofula. In all its earlier stages, the "Discovery" effects a cure. It's easy to see why. The medicine that masters scrofula in one part, is the best remedy for it in another. It is the best. It's warranted. It's the only blood and lung remedy that's guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money will be refunded. No other medicine of its class does it. How many would be left if they did?

It's the cheapest blood-purifier, sold through druggists, (no matter how many doses are offered for a dollar,) because you only pay for the good you get.

Your money is returned if it doesn't benefit or cure you.

Can you ask more?

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

Why a Man Joins a Club.

Within a few years the craze for clubs has extended to all classes of society and both sexes until almost every man and boy in the community is a member of some club, and many ladies have their clubs at which to meet their friends and talk over the fashions or more serious matters. When the craze took the people they seemed to think it was something in the way of enjoyment which they had overlooked, while business men found in it a new and quick way of communication with customers and a continuance of business through the evening as well as during the hours of daylight. The club served also to the men of business as a means of acquaintance with men whom they might not otherwise meet without considerable difficulty, and who might, by rubbing against each other, serve each other's purposes or profit.

It is a striking fact that in many cases the names of our most remarkable clubs are misnomers, misleading to the uninitiated, and the real objects of the gathering a mystery to the members. A man joins a club for reasons of his own, which are enjoyment, seclusion from the outer world, independence, conviviality and select acquaintance. He wants a place at which he may meet a friend—he wants the tone of the club and the privilege of rubbing against whom he regards as his superiors in many things, particularly business and wealth—and he doesn't care about the objects of the organization if there be any other than what he is there for.—New York Times.

A Daring Gunner.

My battery participated in the battle of Pea Ridge on March 6, 7 and 8, 1862. Thomas Davis, a private, acting as No. 4 at one of the guns, leaped upon his gun, and stretching himself out at full length amid a perfect storm of shell and shrapnel and musket balls shouted to the enemy who were in line of battle a short distance away, "Send one of your men over, and I will fight him single handed and settle this picnic." He remained there shouting till the battery was ordered to fall back for ammunition. Davis never received a scratch.—L. J. W. in New York Press.

Little Economies.

At a recent gathering half a dozen people who spend their tens of thousands every year acknowledged a reluctance to light fresh candles, and one lady who is noted for her magnificent toilets confessed to being very angry with her maid if she bought English pins instead of American—which piece of economy netted a saving of five cents on every paper. —New York Tribune.

Five Feet of Frost in the Ground in Aroostook.

New Enterprises and Other Matters of Interest.

Aroostook.

Shipped from Houlton station for week ending February 11, the following carloads: Potatoes 18; hay 21; lumber 9; starch 7; leather 2; bark 1; miscellaneous 4. Total, 62 cars.

More than two thousand barrels of potatoes were sold in Houlton market, Saturday.

Reports reach the Caribou Republican of an immense lumber mill to be erected in Caribou the coming spring season.

Work upon the Aroostook county telephone system is being carried on despite the unfavorable weather. The Caribou, Presque Isle and Fort Fairfield line is nearly completed, and work upon the Houlton line will be commenced early in March.

Five feet of frost in the ground is something that never was witnessed in Aroostook before, and may never occur again during the present generation. It has been a hard winter for water pipes, and although there are now many frozen service pipes in Caribou, the water company is making every effort to place them in running order.

H. H. Lufkin writes from California to a friend in Caribou that the climate does not agree with him and that the farmers there have to work much harder and have less money than the Aroostook farmers. There isn't a better county in the United States for a poor man to make a living and secure a competency than Aroostook, says the Republican.

Cumberland.

In the Cumberland Superior court, Wednesday, the jury gave a verdict of $720.83 for the plaintiff in the case of George H. Jordan against Alfred H. Goudy to recover damages for personal injuries sustained by a collision of teams on Congress street, Portland. The defendant has filed a motion to set aside the verdict.

Among prehistoric remains in Maine that excite the curiosity of the antiquary, are some depressions in the earth back of Milton Dyer's house in Cape Elizabeth, which appear to have been cellars but of which no one now living can tell the origin. S. P. Mayberry in the Cape Elizabeth Sentinel says there seems to be no doubt but the place was the site of a French fishing village occupied previous to the year 1600. In 1678 this land was owned by Rev. Robert Jordan.

Penobscot.

The latest improvement at the North Dexter woolen mill is an elevator of the most approved pattern, just completed. It is estimated it will increase the capacity of the mill equal to one additional floor.

Fifteen of the former parishioners of Rev. A. G. Hill, of Dexter, enjoyed a sleigh-ride from Dover to Dexter, recently, making the pastor and his family a pleasant visit.

Piscataquis.

A syndicate of Machias residents have lately bought a tract of about 14,000 acres of timberland in Piscataquis county.

The fine log camp owned by William Littlefield and Edward Hussey, of Guilford, at Whetstone pond has been destroyed by fire. The loss was over a hundred dollars. The parties are replacing it with a fine cottage.

Scarcity of water appears to be the greatest trouble of many people in Greenville and vicinity at present. Wells are low and aqueducts freezing and giving but little water when not frozen. A portable steam boiler was placed in the cellar of the Lake House last week and with a small pipe forced a stream into the Shaw aqueduct for three or four days and nights. Two hundred feet of pipe was pushed into the main before a hole was made through the ice.

The first service in the renovated Congregational church, in Foxcroft, will be held next Sunday, but the dedicatory services will not be held until some time next week, when it is expected that Dr. W. H. Fenn, of Portland, will preach the sermon. The society has expended some $15,000 on their house of worship, and have practically a new, modern church. The old, high windows have been cut down and stained glass adorns the whole structure. New circular pews, hard wood wainscoting and beautiful frescoing are among the interior attractions. The improvements have been under the supervision of W. E. Parsons, Esq., who furnished the plans for the work. The rebuilt church will rank with the best in the State.

A very large crew is employed in making cans for the new corn packing factory at Foxcroft, which which will be erected there in the spring by the Portland Packing Company. The lot is being cleared now and work on the building will be commenced very early in the spring. Three hundred acres of corn have been secured.

Sagadahoc.

The well known ship J. E. Ridgeway, built at Bath in 1881, has been sold on Norwegian account and will end her days under that flag.

Somerset.

The Pittsfield National Bank, three years old, has a surplus of $7,000 and now pays regular semi-annual dividends of four per cent. That beats western banking out of sight, remarks the Fairfield Journal.

Waldo.

Miss Nora Lufkin, an accomplished young lady of Monroe, whose eyes have troubled her, obliging her to discontinue her studies, has hit upon a plan of supporting herself. She has about one hundred hens, which last year netted her over $100. She does this from choice, her parents being willing and able to support her.

Wednesday evening, last week, two traveling men hired a team of the Belfast Livery Company, and started on a sleigh ride, intending to call on a friend who lived a few miles out in the suburbs, says the Age. When a little this side of Belmont Corner the horse became frightened and shied, overturning the sleigh and throwing both men out. After dragging the sleigh a little way the horse finished the fun by kicking the sleigh to pieces. If one had happened to be standing at the corner of Congress and Main streets about the witching hour of midnight they might have seen two tired looking individuals approaching with a horse and what remained of a sleigh. They had walked the entire distance from Belmont to this city and led the horse. The opinion of the two gentlemen as expressed to the Age man next day was that "these little evening pleasure trips are sometimes not only dangerous but expensive."

Washington.

David Farnsworth, of Jonesboro, was severely injured while at work for T. W. Cooper & Co., at East Machias, recently, by falling so that a loaded sled crashed upon him.

Although the season is a dull one in all other branches of business, there seems to be a sufficient volume of freight going forward from here to furnish full cargoes for each western bound steamer, says the Eastport Sentinel. The New Brunswick, sailing yesterday, having been delayed by the snowstorm, was filled with the usual products of the fisheries of Quoddy, the granite quarries and plaster mills of Red Beach, the shoes from Calais' factory and the rolls of sole leather from Grand Lake Stream's big tanneries. The Lucy P. Miller, sailing Saturday, also had a similar load. The casual observer is led to ask from whence comes this immense quantity of merchandise each recurring steamer day?

An electric railroad is one of the things bound to come, says the Calais Advertiser. Mr. Haines, of Haines Brothers, New York, arrived in town Saturday, and by appointment met some of our citizens at Mr. Hanson's office and there made an offer to build an electric road in our city, and to run to Milltown and St. Stephen provided he could obtain a charter. At present there is a charter held by local capitalists but it expires this winter, and others had made arrangements for a new one, and if the city wants a road are willing to go to work in the spring and build it. So under the circumstances Mr. Haines did nothing decided, but is ready to co-operate with whoever obtains a charter; so everything looks favorable for an electric railroad, and this will necessitate the building of a new iron bridge at Ferry Point.

York.

The Biddeford Standard hears a rumor that a woolen mill is to be erected at Steep Falls, on the Limington side of the river.

Dr. H. Heckland, of Kennebunk, recently refused a contract for over 100 boats, canoes and steam launches for western parties, other work which is ordered making it impossible to fill it in order. The Kennebunk Star says that had the offer been accepted, a $75 boat would have to be turned out each day to get the contract finished on time.

Spring Medicine!

Are You Prepared for Spring?

S. W. NOURSE, Esq.

It is necessary to prepare yourself for the advent of spring by taking a spring medicine. Use the remedy which cured S. W. Nourse, Esq., of Hudson, Mass.

"From constant worry over business matters," he said, "I suffered from the loss of sleep, and became so nervous that I was entirely unfitted for my business. So far, I feared insanity. I used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. The effect was almost magical. I could again sleep, mental composure, appetite, and strength returned. Six bottles of this remedy cured me, and I have remained well to this date. I have recommended Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to many of my friends and neighbors, and have yet to learn of a failure to obtain good results."

He was Cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

Everybody Should take a Spring Medicine.

Read this and You Will Know What to Use.

Mrs. Elmer Craig, of LeRoy, Ill., tells you how you can be well and strong:

"I was stricken with nervous disease," she says, "which affected my heart, head, and stomach. I doctored with physicians of our town, but got no relief from the terrible sick headaches, pains in the heart and stomach until I used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Before I used this wonderful medicine the nerves in my eyes were so affected that I feared that I would lose my sight. I would get so nervous and weak I could not walk across the room without terrible palpitation of the heart. I had not taken one bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy before my head and eyes were cleared of their dull aching, and I am growing stronger every day. I cannot do half justice in the praise of this medicine."

MRS. ELMER CRAIG.

Is Your Blood Pure, Are Your Nerves Strong?

Mr. Seth E. Parsons, of 22 Park St., Albany, N. Y., one of Albany's most prominent business men, states:

"I was very nervous. I could not hold my hands still, especially my left hand; there was an involuntary contraction of the muscles and movement of the finger.

"My food troubled me very soon after eating. My kidneys and bladder were affected so it was difficult to urinate freely.

"I used the celebrated medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and without being tedious reciting my experience, I can say that these difficulties have left me, and my nerves are quiet and my food does not distress me.

"I feel without hesitation in saying that I think Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has produced these favorable results."

Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy Cured Him.

MR. SETH E. PARSONS.

To get well and to keep well, take Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

MEN! WHY ARE YOU WEAK?

HAVE YOU TRIED DRUGS AND FAILED TO FIND A CURE?

DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT AND SUSPENSORY FOR WEAK MEN

A NEVER FAILING CURE FOR ALL WEAKNESS OF MEN

WHO ARE DEBILITATED AND SUFFERING FROM NERVOUS DEBILITY, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, LOSSES, DRAINS, IMPOTENCY OR LOST MANHOOD, RHEUMATISM, LAME BACK, KIDNEY TROUBLES, NERVOUSNESS, SLEEPLESSNESS, POOR MEMORY & GENERAL ILL HEALTH

the effects of abuses, excesses, worry and exposure. For such sufferers we have a relief and cure in our marvelous invention, which requires but a trial to convince the most skeptical. In your ignorance of effects or by excesses or exposure, you may have unduly drained your system of nerve force and vitality—which is electricity—and thus caused your weakness or lack of force. If you replace into your system the elements thus drained, which are required for vigorous strength, you will remove the cause and health, strength and vigor will follow at once and in the natural way. This is our plan and treatment, and we guarantee a cure or money refunded. Our 200 page book "Three Classes of Men," should be read by every young, middle aged and old man, sent sealed, free. Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is no experiment, as we have restored thousands to robust health and vigor, after all other treatments failed, as can be shown by hundreds of cases throughout this State, who would gladly testify, and from many of whom we have strong letters bearing testimony to their recovery after using our Belt.

WE HAVE CURED THESE—WE CAN CURE YOU!

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESS.

NEW YORK CITY, October 30th, 1892.

DR. A. T. SANDEN. Dear Sir:—About three years ago I purchased one of your electric belts for the cure of nervous debility, which I had in its worst form, and which was undermining my health. For years I had suffered from this terrible debilitating drain on my vital forces and I did not know what it was to have a good night's sleep, but in one month's time after using the belt I felt a much stronger man both mentally and physically, and in a short time was entirely well.

Yours truly, ... 387 Bowery.

RHEUMATISM—LOST VIGOR.

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 31, 1892.

DR. A. T. SANDEN, Dear Sir:—I can report to you that the belt has entirely cured me of rheumatism from which I suffered for fourteen years almost continually. I am a letter carrier, and the long daily tramps necessary in my rounds, up to the time of getting the belt, were painfully gone through with, but thanks to your wonderful invention, I can now walk as well as I ever did, and will recommend your treatment to all afflicted. The current has also brought back my vigor in other ways as you said it would. Yours very truly,

JAMES MEAD, 21 Perry St.

RHEUMATISM AND LOST VIGOR.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., October 15th, 1892.

DR. A. T. SANDEN. Dear Sir:—Four years ago I suffered such pain from rheumatism that at times it was impossible for me to get around, and I always carried a cane for support. I used your belt and felt a relief in one hour. I gained in weight from that day and it was only a short time until the pains left me and to-day I am a well man. I always have my belt near by for fear the rheumatism might come back, but as it has now been four years since you cured me, can safely say it is permanent. A. S. VOSS, Musical Director, 109 St. Mark's Place.

My health has improved wonderfully, and I have gained twelve pounds of flesh, and now sleep well and have an excellent appetite. Your splendid electric belt with your "rules of Health" has been a very valuable benefit to me, and I take pleasure in recommending your belt. Yours respectfully,
